ELEONORA MARSELLA

Journalist and Literary Agent, from Salento, class of '92 born in December in Maglie, the town of Aldo Moro. I have always read, spoken and written. I have been thinking since long before, but I have been analysing society since the last few years. I have lived in Rome, Modena and Vercelli; I drive culture around Italy, I love travelling, cooking, running, communicating, reading, designing and realising. I work in today's publishing world with emerging authors by choice, I read great classics by necessity. You will find me on the radio, on television, in the piazza, wherever there is value.

BE STRONG EDIZIONI

Be Strong Edizioni was born on a spring night in 2022.

Sleepless, like few, I was taking care of plants together with Africa, my faithful Jack Russell.

I was reflecting on the publishing industry in recent years (I myself have been a literary agent for ten), thinking about the many problems my authors always encounter. And they are always the same.

So I think: 'Hey I could take care of the book creation from the beginning'.

The words 'Be Strong Be Woman' have been on my skin for several seasons now.

So Be Strong Edizioni is nothing but my vision of the world, a world made of paper, thoughts and all that remains: the essentials.

A tulip that becomes a book, a tulip that presents itself to the world with warmth, determination, a constant desire to change. So here we are (not alone!) with the small ambition to unearth talents and share them with everyone, all of us.

THE MAE SON-JUN'S MYSTERIES

The Mae Son-Jun's Mysteries is a series of stand-alone novels set in different countries that follow the adventures of a French-Korean mystery writer. An unusual character in the literary panorama of investigators, sometimes even bizarre, he is endowed with a certain exotic charm and an equally bursting vanity which have allowed him to build a solid image over the years, despite not shining with particular investigative acumen. However, he can count on a certain intuition and with the help of skilled collaborators and a bit of luck he always manages to complete his investigations.

FETHANEI, THE LOST LANDING

This book tells the story of Fethanei – a small Rhaetian village in the north of Italy, at the dawn of the Roman imperial conquest – and its landing place, its emporium, and a dynamic, prosperous, and welcoming local community. Fethanei lies at the foot of the Alps, and in ancient times its landing place was vital, as it was from here that the Adriatic Sea could be reached by sailing down the Adige River – Athesis to the Romans. The novel aims to recall an enchanted and mysterious place, to arouse the reader's interest and curiosity. www.fethanei.eu

IL RUOLO DELLA SCUOLA POSTMODERNA

Hyper-productivism and ultra-cognitivism are just some of the most evident critical issues of an era, ours, characterized by the rapid “liquefaction” of reality, leading to an individualism within a vision of the world marked by a wild neoliberal consumerism. A reform of thought is absolutely necessary which invests the role that the school assumes as a place of education.

RESTI DI POESIA

When verse breaks into numerous pauses and tangled thoughts in the complex reality, what remains of the poem is a poetic experiment - ἀπόπειραι - meant to challenge certainties and safe anchors in human existence. The Remnants of Poetry endeavor to find a different path than the pursuit of beauty or hidden truths, exploring the unique and enigmatic nature of our existence in the vast universe.
